BYRD CASE APPEALED; SAVES NEGRO'S LIFE UNTIL OCTOBER

Attorney O'Reilly Files Notice Which Will Result in Review of Case of Policeman Lawrence's Slayer Before Court of Appeals—May Be Another Trial.

James M. Byrd, convicted slayer of Policeman James Lawrence, and now at Sing Sing prison awaiting the carrying out during the week of June 22 of the death sentence passed upon him by County Judge Fowler, will not be executed until this fall at least.

N. Frank O'Reilly, his attorney, on Monday afternoon served notice on County Clerk C. K. Loughran and District Attorney Frederick G. Traver that he had appealed Byrd's case. Notice was also mailed to Warden Brophy of Sing Sing prison.

This act as a stay of execution of the death penalty until the case is decided after argument by the court of appeals and, if decided against him, he will be resented. Should the court of appeals decide in favor of the appeal and Byrd is granted a new trial, he will be brought back to the Ulster county jail and locked up until the case is decided.

The notice of appeal served, as above stated, is in effect as follows: Supreme court, Ulster county, The People of the state of New York against James M. Byrd. Please take notice, that the defendant, James M. Byrd, appeals to the court of appeals of the state of New York from judgment of conviction rendered against him of murder in the first degree in supreme court, on the 12th of May, 1919, and from each and every part, and the whole of said judgment, and also from the order of this court, duly entered in the office of the clerk of the county of Ulster, denying defendant's motion for a new trial and defendant's motion for an arrest of judgment. It is signed by Mr. O'Reilly, and the serving of the notice of service is admitted by signatures by County Clerk Loughran and District Attorney Traver at the bottom of it.

It will take considerable time to make up the typewritten copy of the stenographer's minutes of the trial for printing, which not only includes the testimony complete, the questioning of the men examined as to their qualifications as jurors, the objections made during the trial, the rulings by the court, the summing up by the defense and by the People and the charge of the judge to the jury, but all motions, be copied and printed and rulings of the court on said motions must be included in the printed case on the appeal. It is probable the appeal will be argued before the court of appeals in October next.

But you have taught and shown the value of the possibilities of sympathetic and understanding co-operation. You have discovered and vindicated a new altruism, you have crystallized an ideal and made it a system. In these closing words, I add my heartfelt praise to the grateful thanks of America." A similar notice was sent to the chairman of each board in the United States.

ST. JOHN'S NOTES.

Activities of Wall Street Church For Coming Week.

On Sunday morning at St. John's Episcopal Church on Wall street, the rector, the Rev. Leighton Williams, D. D., paid a glowing and beautiful tribute to the memory of late Bishop Greer of this diocese, in which he feelingly told of the life and great service to humanity of Bishop Greer. The memorial received added interest from the many personal reminiscences of the rector who for so many years was a personal friend of Bishop Greer. The bishop's chair and the pulpit were hung with memorial wreaths of gay leaves.

LONDON TRIUMPH FOR AVIATORS

Hawker and Grieve Carried on Crowd's Shoulders in Edinburgh and Capital Prepares Official Reception—Hawker's Story.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, May 27.—Harry G. Hawker's ride toward London today was a triumphal procession. A big crowd had gathered at the railway station in Edinburgh, when the train bearing the daring Australian pilot and his navigator, Mackenzie Grieve, arrived. Two men tried to make their way unnoticed to the station restaurant to get breakfast surrounded and carried on the shoulders of the crowd, while thousands cheered.

Upon their arrival at the Marybone station here tonight they will be met by an official reception committee and escorted by members of the Royal Aero Club and Australian soldiers to the Aero Club house. The police have made arrangements to handle big crowds along the two.

Unable To Penetrate Clouds.

Describing his experiences today to correspondents aboard the train on which he is travelling to London, Hawker said that until his water filter became choked, he was certain that he would reach Ireland without mishap. We were about 800 miles out, he said. The weather was very bad and the clouds very high. Several times we tried to clear the filter by making sharp downward glides but always without success and this meant losing altitude at each attempt. When we climbed again the water boiled badly.

Finally, when we were twelve and one half hours out from Newfoundland we came to clouds about 25,000 feet high and very black—almost impossible to fly through.

The Search For A Ship.

We decided to go beneath the clouds. The coming down to about 6,000 feet, we found it blacker than ever. Eventually I got to 10,000 feet above the water before we could see. We started on our course again with the sun coming up, but the water was again boiling. Then we decided to play for safety. We began zigzagging back and forth, hoping to catch some vessel. The wind was blowing from the northeast at half a gale. At last I sighted a ship close by on our course. We were both in the fog with clouds low and were almost on top of the ship before we saw her. We flew alongside the ship at an altitude of 400 feet, fired three distress signals and began flying back and forth across her. Finally some of her crew came on deck and signalled that they were distressed. We made ready with our own boat. The Mary drew up to within 200 yards and for an hour and a half we watched her crew trying to put over a life boat. When they finally got the way to us but after a fight with the waves reached the plane and took us off. We were without boots or caps when we got into the life boat and Grieve was without his coat. We also lost a lot of valuable instruments and some mail we were carrying to England.

The house of George Bruyn at New Salem was destroyed by fire early this morning. Mrs. Bruyn was at home alone with her two children, Mr. Bruyn having gone out of town on Monday. The fire started at about 12:45 o'clock. A defective chimney is thought to have been the cause. A bucket brigade was formed and much near by buildings saved with much hard work. Very little furniture was saved. The house was an old land mark known as the David Burgher house. Mr. Bruyn and family are occupying a vacant house nearby.

Y., to Gerard Holman Coster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Livingston Coster of New York city and Katonah, N. Y., which will take place on June 7th in the Ontario Church, Tannersville, N. Y. The Rev. Seiden P. Deane of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin will perform the marriage ceremony. Monday evening a surprise shower was given to the Misses Pearl Winfield and Ethel Glass at the home of Miss Evelyn Hogan, 158 Main street. The members of Miss Lucie Berryman's Sunday School class participated in the event. The table, at which covers were laid for sixteen, had as its color scheme pink and white. The center of the table formed the main part of the decorative scheme, around which the rest of the decorations were grouped. This attractive centerpiece was a large cake set in an inner circle of small white blossoms, and both surrounded by a circle of pink roses and smilax. The cake itself was surmounted by a miniature wedding couple in honor of the two brides to be. At each end of the table was a small cake patterned after the large one in the center. At each place was an exquisite little pink basket filled with pink and white candies, as a favor. There were place cards, which were also in keeping with the general color scheme. The whole table reminded one of a beautiful garden flower bed in springtime. Following the enjoyment of the table and its repast, the young people indulged in many interesting games. Indeed, so quickly and pleasantly did the evening pass that the hour of parting arrived surprisingly soon. Most reluctantly they parted with the common wish that many more members of the class would become brides to be, if a shower such as this were to be the custom in the future.

MORE DELEGATES AT CONVENTION

Watch Service Of Christian Endeavorers—Speakers On Various Phases Of Work Including Miss Howe Of Poughkeepsie In Turkish Costume.

The number of delegates registered at the third biennial convention of the Second District Empire State Christian Endeavor Union was increased to nearly 200 at the opening of the second day's session this morning. The meeting in the First Baptist Church was well attended, especially the watch service conducted by the Rev. F. W. Moot of the Poughkeepsie Church at 8:30 o'clock.

On Devotional Music.

The first address was made by the Rev. R. P. Ingersoll, the song leader, on "Music in the C. E." Mr. Ingersoll stated that in his opinion music plays an important part not only in Christian Endeavor meetings but in all church services. The reason, said he, why most young people's meetings are not a success is because the musical part of the services is conducted in a haphazard way. Unless, he continued, the music is conducted in a splendid devotional manner, the rest of the meeting will not be any good. He suggested that in the program of reconstruction in the Christian Endeavor, the president of the Second District and the members give some consideration to the music. It is a pity, he remarked, that there is not a common book of hymns and selections known by all societies that come to the Christian Endeavor conventions. The time is at hand, he said, when the Christian Endeavor must have a common book so that all societies of this section and of the entire state may know the book or sections of the book. He also suggested that the Christian Endeavor arrange, specialties along musical lines by training the young people in playing and singing devotional music. He pointed out that a splendid lesson of the value of music was shown in the effect it had in the army. Singing, said he, in closing inspired the soldiers and made them want to go over the top. When the Germans heard the singing they were afraid of the songs and of the men who were singing them.

Frankel Outlines C. E. Work.

President Scofield also announced that during the services last night an "expert pin" had been lost by one of the delegates. The finder is requested to leave the same at the registration booth or hand it to one of the committees.

Ponta Delgada, Azores, May 27.—The American seaplane NC-4 was approaching the coast of Portugal this afternoon and from his seat in front of the cockpit, Lieutenant Commander Read should sight Cape Roca, the first bit of the European continent to come into view, before 3:30 p. m.

The latest wireless dispatch received by Admiral Jackson today indicated the seaplane was lessening her speed slightly as she approached the European coast, but there was no indication that this was due to engine trouble of any kind. She probably will further reduce speed as she comes in sight of land and begins swinging about for the entrance into Lisbon harbor and this may delay her arrival until nearly 5 o'clock today. The weather continues fine.

WHITE RIBBON WOMEN AT MILTON

W. C. T. U. Institute Celebrate Victory Over John Barleycorn—Other Features of an Extensive Program—Usher a Banner "Jubilee" County (Contributed.)

The Institute of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Ulster county was held in the Presbyterian Church of Milton, N. Y., on Thursday, May 22. The motto of the institute was "The Lord hath done great things for us whereof we are glad." Ps. 125:3.

Delegates and visitors received a warm welcome as they gathered from various unions of the county.

The institute opened at 2.30 with a Jubilee prayer service led by Miss S. C. Pratt, president of Highland Union. All joined in singing the National hymn, and repeating the 23rd Psalm. Mrs. Govett of Chittendale, led in an earnest prayer, after which this service closed with the singing of "Some Glad Day."

Institute was called to order by the president, Mrs. Martha Bell of Milton. Mrs. Alice Crispell, Y. P. R. secretary, conducted a Y. P. R. hour.

Mrs. D. M. Warren of Milton, gave a much enjoyed reading, "Hopes at the State Convention." Mrs. Crispell told of the many departments of work taken up by the Y. P. R. and closed with encouraging words. Miss Evelyn Northrip sang a much enjoyed solo, "John Barleycorn Good-by." Miss Sears, vice-president of Milton, cordially welcomed us. Mr. Blakener, pastor of the M. E. Church of Milton gave us cordial words of greeting. He spoke of the great force the W. C. T. U. has been throughout the world not only as foe to the liquor traffic but along many lines. Mr. Blakener said he had always been interested in the work of the W. C. T. U. and always worked for the cause. He hoped we would never give up till "Old John Barley Corn" was dead and buried.

Mrs. Edward Schofield of Highland responded to these greetings thanking the people of Milton for their gracious welcome.

Mrs. Edward Young of Milton, "Key Woman" of Ulster county, for the Jubilee drive, gave an account of Jubilee plans for Ulster county. Ulster county is one of the banner counties in the Jubilee campaign. All joined in singing "Ratified a New Edition."

Ratified—ratified. Catch the word, catch the word, ratified.

All the states came running. The air is humming. With shouts of victory everywhere. We prepared, we were there. On the dates that the states ratified. We went on, or, yes, we went over. And we'll not stop work 'Till the world is dry."

New York state's quota in the drive is $125,000 and Mrs. Boole, our president wants to make it $200,000. Fifteen unions in one county have pledged their quota. Schuylle's grape juice factory of Highland pledged $100. Wallkill Union was paid a glowing tribute for having secured the best speaker obtainable. Mrs. Boole, and for going over the top in their quota as well as securing ten new victory members.

Mrs. Young told of the work accomplished in many unions and of the love and unity among all. She hoped that unions would try to secure Jubilee members who were members pledged till 1924 when our golden Jubilee would be celebrated. Victory members are only pledged for one year. All joined in singing, "Sound the Jubilee." Mrs. Young closed with words by Miss Anna Gordon:

"Press the Jubilee
Bless the Jubilee;
Ring the Jubilee
Sing the Jubilee;
Walk the Jubilee,
Talk the Jubilee;
Dare the Jubilee;
Share the Jubilee;
Give the Jubilee;
Live the Jubilee,
Sound the Jubilee."

Mary Harris Armour added the additional lines:

"Praise the Jubilee, Raise the Jubilee."

Mrs. J. D. Rose, county corresponding secretary, presented the achievements of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Rose said it has been up hill work often times in introducing temperance instruction in one day schools and Sunday schools. But we must all work to create public sentiment in every way. Mrs. Rose spoke of many interesting incidents in connection with the many departments of work taken up by the W. C. T. U.—of prison work, work among foreign speaking people, Americanization, ratification, and now one great Jubilee drive. Mrs. Rose closed with repeating the temperance decology.

Mrs. Bell conducted a discussion on the standard of efficiency for local unions—participated in by various presidents. Each union should have at least 12% of its membership subscribers to the state paper, try to get members to take the Union Signal. But should be paid regularly. Important work is the L. T. L. and Y. P. R. From these we obtain one new recruit. Do not let us become discouraged, but push on to the end—do not be content with doing only a little, but do more.

Mrs. Palmer, president of Plattkill, voiced the noon-day prayer, thanking God for the great victories won.

Mrs. Pratt of Highland, Mrs. Palmer of Plattkill, Mrs. Piper of Chittendale, Miss Dero of Wallkill, Mrs. Aldorf of Gardiner, Mrs. Crispell of New Fair, all spoke of the points of efficiency in their local unions.

The corresponding secretary was instructed to send a protest to President Wilson or congress against the recommendation for the repeal of the war time prohibition act, effective July 1st, in so far as it affects wine and beer.

Miss Lillian M. Phelps of Niagara county, was introduced and addressed us in the interests of "The Jubilee Movement."

Miss Phelps told of her brother saying a night or two before New York state ratified: You women of New York need not expect to go up to Albany with the idea that New York is going to ratify. She said: "We do expect it. And I came home and waved my handkerchief over his head and said: 'I told you so.' There isn't one thing but what we women can get if we start out for it."

The W. C. T. U. has always protested against the cigarette and in its place has sent thousands of pounds of chocolates to our soldier boys.

We have raised money for field kitchens and ambulances. Now we have started on our $1,000,000 drive. Why now when so much money has been raised and loaned? Because now is the crucial time. We need it now.

China has sent a protest to our government against the American boxer coming into their country. And now the land of Palestine, our Lord's land, is about to be entered by the hordes. We need money to fight for world prohibition. We will try to demonstrate that this country can run without the liquor traffic.

Then we want a certain amount for Americanization—to help change the ideals of the home life of these foreign people who come to our shores.

Mass. Phelps was a very good speaker and held the entire attention of her audience. We are very sorry not to be able to record her entire address. We closed with singing.

"Get your friends to give and let our country go over the top in our Jubilee drive."

Mrs. Palen, recording secretary, read the minutes of the entire sessions. Minutes of the executive session which was held between sessions were adopted at which time $100 was voted to be given from the county treasury in memory of Mrs. Emily Funderhill Burgess and Mrs. John F. Hunt, two pioneer workers in our county.

Mrs. Young extended her thanks for the way in which the local women of the W. C. T. U. have stood by her as "Key Woman" of Ulster county; also her thanks for remembrance in the resolutions.

With clasped hands all joined in singing, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and the institute closed with a nearest prayer by our president, Mrs. Bell.

VACATION TRIPS FOR THE PUBLIC

Railroads Are Now Urging People to Travel.

RETURN TO OLD METHODS

Not Much Will Be Chopped Off Transportation, but Excursion Rates Based on the One-Way Charge Will Be Reduced—Service Bureau Manager Says "Uncle Sam Is Out for Railroad Travel This Summer With an Ax."

Let those who are thinking of a vacation trip prepare for it now.

Last year vacations were mostly thinking. Discouragement of travel by the railroad administration ended preparations and punctured the outing hopes of almost everybody.

Now it will be different. In the breezy language of the manager of the main service bureau in Chicago: "Uncle Sam is out for railroad travel this summer with an ax."

Not much will be chopped off transportation, but there will be a return to old methods of excursion rates based on the one way charge instead of the favorite scheme under government control of no discount if a passenger prefers to ride back rather than walk.

As one way rates are higher than they used to be the new excursion rates will be higher than they were before the war. Nor will they be so low as before government control of the roads. How much lower than at present is best told by the manager of the Chicago bureau of service, Howard H. Hayes, who says:

How They Figure It.

"Suppose you have a friend in the clothing business who gave you 20 per cent discount on a suit of clothes. Let that stand for the discount the railroads gave on a round-trip ticket from what you would have paid if you bought two single tickets, one each way. Now, you bought a $30 suit of clothes and paid $24 for it with your 20 per cent discount off. All right. Now, your friend says, the suit is worth $40 and was worth that last summer when he wouldn't give you any discount and did not care whether you bought it or not. But this year you can have it with the same old discount for $32. See? It is not possible to go into the rates for this summer now; they will be announced about June 1 when the excursion season opens.

"Last year," continued Mr. Hayes, "our clothing store, so to speak, had nothing in the windows, no lights inside or out, and there was no desire to show goods. This summer we will be all stocked up and lighted, with pullers-in at the door. In the windows we will have announcements of more trains, more advertising, fast schedules, observation cars, liberal stop-over privileges, wide choice of routes, every inducement to travel in comfort and convenience."

Many Visit Parks.

When the government took over the roads all expenditure was stopped. This included booklets and folders formerly used by individual roads. There was then established the United States railroad administration bureau of service, national parks and monuments. Mr. Hayes was placed at its head. The purpose of this bureau was to invite travel to national pleasure reserves. All other kinds of travel was discouraged. The twelve great forest parks of the west were open all last year to tourists, although some of the hotels were closed. With all the discouragement of the high costs of living, higher taxes and decreased transportation facilities the number of park visitors in the war period of two seasons was increased 82 per cent over the highest record of 1918. This year it is expected to be more than six hundred thousand or a further increase of one hundred thousand over last year. One of the noticeable things by the park management last year was the magnitude of the automobile travel coming from every state of the country. Automobile associations and manufacturers believe this travel will be greater this year and are preparing for it.

BAFFLED THE PROFESSOR

Spiders Crawled Into a Tub Holding Seismograph.

Because a tribe of spiders decided that the glass case that incloses the seismograph in the basement of Blake hall, at Kansas university, would make an excellent home for their families, the physics professor who cares for the delicate earthquake instrument has been baffled for several days as to why the needles of the seismograph insisted on standing up in the air instead of resting on the recording drum. The mystery was solved the other day when Professor Kester noticed that his arm was covered with spider webs after he had been investigating the situation. He investigated further and found that several webs attached to the recording needles caused them to stand up.

Army Enlistments Increased.

Decided improvement in the results of the war department's recruiting campaign was shown in the report for the week ended April 12. A total of 4,454 recruits entered the army.

Rare Belts of Gold.

Gold and copper belts served as money among the peoples of Mexico and Central America before the time of the American Indian. The gold belts of Costa Rica are exquisite examples of metal-work; many of them are modeled in the form of birds, monkeys and grotesque heads.

AMERICA'S IMMORTALS

JOHN PRATT,

Corporal, Co. L, 106th Infantry.

Corporal Pratt was decorated for conspicuous gallantry in action with the enemy near Chevignes, France, November 7, 1918. Corporal Pratt was on duty as a runner at the headquarters of the advance battalion when the position was being heavily shelled by the enemy. Seeing two soldiers lying severely wounded two hundred yards away in an open field, he crawled out under intense fire, gave them first aid treatment and then dragged them, one at a time, back to the dressing station. His exceptional bravery enabled the two wounded men to secure immediate medical attention and saved their lives. His home address is Toledo, O.

WHAT WAR SAVINGS STAMPS ARE.

- (1) A safe, easy method to invest savings. The banks and post offices are handy; the government stands behind your stamps and pays you 4 per cent interest, compounded quarterly.
- (2) A safeguard fund against financial emergencies. Can be cashed in on 10 days' notice at post office.
- (3) A cornerstone for success. Wise Savings Succeeds.

It's All Over but the Saving.

The war is over. The war is won. The great Victory Liberty Loan is over. We've seen, parades, we've heard bands. We've had speeches and meetings and celebrations. But there are still some more boys to be brought back from overseas. There are still some debts to be paid for this glorious victory.

We are getting off pretty cheap! We don't have to pay a war indemnity! We merely have to lend our money for a war which we won! Isn't it rather easy after all? Let's hurry and help. Let's help regularly, steadily too. Let's buy all the U. S. S. we can and do our part as we think and rejoice over the victory. Let's not only cheer. Let's buy War Savings Stamps and finish up Uncle Sam's fine job!

And while our money is being loaned to us strong a government as the most exacting would want to find it's adding compound interest for us too! Pretty nice, eh?—Mary Graham, Bonner.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

Both the Man and Woman Were Well Advanced in Years.

Virginia O. Saunders, seventy-one years of age, eloped with Mrs. N. B. Bean, a widow, thirty-nine years old, to Clayton, Mo., where they were married. Saunders was formerly mayor of Webster Groves, and is a retired dry goods merchant.

Saunders met Mrs. Bean about a year ago when she was visiting in St. Louis, and after she left they corresponded. Several months ago, Saunders says, Mrs. Bean returned to St. Louis and he proposed marriage. She accepted, but no wedding date was decided upon.

"It was a love match from the start," Saunders told a reporter, "and we were only undecided about the date. I met her at the station, and feeling romantic, we decided to elope to Clayton. Our friends will be considerably surprised to hear what we have done."

Spider Web Weighs

It is estimated that four miles of an ordinary spider's thread would weigh scarcely a grain.

Raphael.

The modern form of the name of Raphael, one of the greatest painters of the renaissance, is Raffaele, and his family name Santi is also written Santi. According to some writers, he was born March 28, 1483, while others give that date as one day earlier, while still another group contend that the inscription on his tomb, which is April 6, is the correct day of his nativity. Should this be so, a most remarkable coincidence appears in the fact that he is said to have been born on Good Friday and died April 6, 1520, which also fell on Good Friday.

Housebreaker's Guide.

A lady who lived alone had taken down her curtain a young girl from the country. One day both mistress and maid were going out, and in such circumstances it was usual for the key of the back door to be hidden in the garden. The hiding place had been pointed out to the girl, and when she went out she was careful to deposit the key in the place indicated, but she pinned on the door a piece of paper on which she had written, "Still to be taken out. Key under the flower pot on the window ledge."

ESOPUS.

Esopus, May 26.—In the year, 1861, the farm which Charles C. Beaver now owns and upon which he resides was sold to his father, John O. Beaver, by James Martin. On Friday last W. B. Martin of Chicago, (grandson of the said Jas. Martin), accompanied by G. W. Sage of the same place passed through Esopus enroute to New York city. The two men left Chicago on Tuesday, April 15th, and were due in New York Tuesday, May 27th, but were positive would make it by Monday, May 26th. On honor they were compelled to take this long "stroll" in payment of a wager made previous to a recent election. By appointment they were met at Esopus by an automobile party, including the wife of Mr. Sage, also Mrs. Eaton and Mr. Emerson of Boston, Mass., and the whole party drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Beaver. Mr. Beaver was absent from home (much to his regret) but Mrs. Beaver gave the guests a very cordial welcome. Samuel Martin, the father of W. B. Martin, was born and resided on the farm with his parents until he grew to manhood, then went to Chicago and later married a young lady of that city. About six years ago his wife, with her daughter and the son, who was here on Friday, were touring from Chicago to New York, stopped at Mr. Beaver's for a glimpse of the old homestead. At each visit they were taken through the whole house and about the grounds. Pictures were taken at various points which are highly prized by different members of the Martin family. Upon reaching New York Mrs. Eaton will go to Philadelphia to visit her mother. Mr. Emerson will return to Boston and the two pedestrians, accompanied by Mrs. Sage, will make the return trip to Chicago in Mr. Martin's handsome touring car.

Tracy Freer of Schenectady, motored to Esopus on Saturday to visit his mother, Mrs. John L. Schultz.

Miss Helen Cole and Miss Ruth Anderson of Poughkeepsie were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cole.

Mrs. Harrison Wright and little daughter, Dorothy, who have been guests of Alfred Wright during the past week, went to New York city on Saturday. They will return to Esopus on Tuesday and will remain for about two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Zach Hermance visited Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hermance on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse DuBois of Kingston, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred DuBois and son, Frederic, motored to New Paltz on Sunday. Returning by the way of Esopus they stopped for a short visit with Mrs. Emma Dickerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralphy Mott and little daughter, Norma, spent Sunday with Mr. Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mott at Poughkeepsie.

Carl Elliott and family have returned to their summer home in this village.

Mother's Day was observed by the school on Friday afternoon. There were songs and recitations by the children which were well rendered, and showed they had been well trained. Everything was in perfect order. The school house was prettily decorated with flags and flowers. Tables were set under the maples on the grounds and after the exercises all the mothers and visitors were invited to take supper, which was beautifully provided and much enjoyed by all present. Much pains were taken to beautify the grounds, large bouquets bordered the walk, both from the main street to the school house, besides the many flower beds, over $25 from the sale of popcorn.

SOCONY
TRACTOR OIL

More Work per Gallon

Tractors generally work at practically full load—with the throttle wide open. This produces an unusually high operating heat. For correct lubrication and efficient, economical operation tractors accordingly require an oil especially suited to meet unusually severe service conditions.

SoCony Gas Engine Tractor Oil is the oil leading tractor manufacturers recommend. Insures minimum wear on the vital parts of your engine. Cushions piston pin and crankshaft bearings against the heavy hammer blows of the cylinder explosions and prevents destructive knocks, strains and engine vibration. Holds compression tight and assures more tractor work per gallon of lubricating oil and more power per gallon of fuel.

Among recent visitors in town the past week were Col. William Gorman Rice of Albany, chairman of the state civil service commission and George F. Parker of New York. Col. Rice has been selected by the family of the late President Grover Cleveland to prepare a history of his life of which Mr. Parker will be the historical author. Col. Rice was one of the executive clerks in the governor's office during Mr. Cleveland's term at Albany, later private secretary to Gov. Hill and civil service commissioner at Washington during President Cleveland's second term. These gentlemen are well fitted for the work and came here to have a personal interview with Hon. Thomas E. Benedict, he being the only living person who was in legislative and department life at Albany and at Washington with Mr. Cleveland all the years of his public activities and possesses many letters and papers as well as much personal knowledge of the great president.

again.

4th vice president, Miss Florence Jollie. The league has a membership of about 50 and under the leadership of one of its efficient members as president the coming year the work of this organization is sure to meet with success.

Rev. Charles A. Dann delivered two splendid sermons at the M. E.
Church on Sunday. At the morning service there was a large congregation present. The subject of the very able discourse delivered was a very timely one in commemoration of Memorial Day, "Fitting Remembrance." High tribute was paid the serving veterans of the Civil War and the returning soldiers and sailors of our late great war. Miss Carolyn Clark very effectively rendered an appropriate vocal selection and the choir and congregation with Mr. Campbell organist leading rendered three appropriate hymns, concluding with America and the Doxology. At the evening service the theme of the pastor's excellent sermon was "Can Christ Depend Upon His Church?"

day the newly appointed pastor delivered two splendid sermons. The GLASCO.

Glasco, May 26.—Rainy weather has so far delayed operations on the open air brickyards.

A force of workmen are busy tearing down the American Ice will run according to the time table of the former steamer Gardner between Glasco and Rondout.

The Ostrander auction at the "Dominion Farm" last week drew a large crowd in spite of the rain.
The household effects looked like the accumulation of two generations and beyond. Souvenir hunters picked up many rare pieces but had to pay dear for them. Odd pieces of old fashioned mahogany brought prices out of the reach of an ordinary purchaser. The aggregate of sales must have reached a generous sum.

Miss Mabel Shoemaker, stenographer at Washburn's office, is boarding with Mrs. Elsie TenBroek, on Midway avenue.

Miss Myrtle Weeks spent several days last week in New York and

WHY WAIT FOR LOWER PRICES

Prices are not coming down for a long time. After the Civil War building costs NEVER went back to the pre-war level. All prices will remain high for some time.

Building Costs Cannot Fall Rapidly If At All

Because they have increased less than have most other costs. And because the enormous amount of construction work in Europe and at home will mean a scarcity of building material.

YOU CAN BUILD NOW!

She never told a soul that she was married. She had to expect complications, didn't she? She did, but her husband, who didn't know that she was making a secret of their marriage, couldn't understand why she allowed other men to make love to her only a few hours after she had promised to "love, honor and obey" him. The KITCHEN CABINET

No, the heart that has truly loved never forgots. But as truly loves on to the close. As the sunflower turns to her god when he sets. The same look which she turned when he rose.

FOR THE SWEET COURSE.

As a finish to the dinner a heavy dessert is often out of place. The light dessert satisfies and is much better for the average person.

A cream puff filled with ice cream, is one that will not overburden the stomach, or other filling may be used, such as a cooked custard or a chocolate filling. These may be filled and heaped in a handsome dish, making a pretty as well as toothsome dessert.

Chocolate Junket.—Bring to a lukewarm heat a pint of good, rich, sweet milk. Stir in half a cupful of sugar, a third of a cupful of boiling water, a quarter of a cupful of grated chocolate, with half of a crushed junket tablet dissolved in a teaspoonful of cold water. Flavor with vanilla and pour out in sherbet cups to set. Serve topped with whipped cream and a sprinkling of nuts.

Orange Cream.—Beat until stiff one pint of heavy cream. Soak half a package of gelatin in a cupful of cold water until dissolved. Beat the yolks of three eggs; add the strained juice of two large oranges and the rind of one. Add a cupful of boiling water, the eggs, and cook until thick, then add the softened gelatin and a cupful of powdered sugar. Pour into halves of oranges to mold. Kumquats make a good garnish for this dish to be used when it is served in sherbet cups.

Apple Trifle.—Take a pint of well-seasoned apple sauce, put through a sieve and reheat. Soak half a package of gelatin in cupful of cold water and stir it into the hot sauce. When well dissolved and the sauce is quite cold, fold in a pint of whipped cream flavored with nutmeg or grated lemon peel, or with any desired flavor. Turn into a mold that has been wet with cold water and let stand in a cold place for several hours. Serve unmolded on a platter, surrounded with a custard or with whipped cream.

Red-Tapeism.

A young detective was enthusiastic but inexperienced. Rushing into his chief's office in great excitement, he cried, "I've found the murderer!" "I've got him cornered so that he can't escape!" The chief regarded him with withering scorn. "All right," he said, "to draw your attention to the fact that at present we are looking out for the murderer, but for the others."

RECORD AUDIENCE AT CONCERT

Soloists Creepi and Van Bommel With Symphony Orchestra Come Up to Expectations of Town's Music Lovers.

One of the largest audiences ever assembled in the High School Auditorium listened to a concert last evening, given by the Kingston Symphony Orchestra and Valentina Creepi, violinist, and Mr. Van Bommel, baritone, which was so exceptionally fine as to have called forth very favorable criticism from even a hardened critic, and the appreciation of the audience was evinced as much in their absolutely silent listening to the numbers as in their applause.

So admirably was every number on the program rendered that in spite of its length—two hours is a long stretch for the tension under which any audience listens to a symphonic program—the audience felt that the concert was too soon over.

For some time the serious-minded musicians of the city have realized that Mr. Muller's conducting of the orchestra, and his choosing of the orchestral numbers, has been and is such as to stamp him an orchestral conductor of most exceptional gifts. Last evening there was fresh proof of Conductor Muller's skill for, so late did the soloists arrive in the city that a full and satisfactory rehearsal, such as is usually considered an absolute necessity, so far as both soloist and orchestra are concerned, was impossible, yet the soloists themselves as well as the musicians in the audience were exceedingly hearty in their praise of the concerto and the solo which Mr. Van Bommel sang with orchestra accompaniment.

The program opened with the "Prelude to the Master Singer" if you choose, but always to date known as the Vorspiel to be Die Meistersinger, by Wagner. This brilliant orchestral work with the beautiful Walter's Prize Song woven through its entire fabric, and its vivid orchestration, an especially difficult opening number, showed plainly what progress the orchestra has been making, for in spite of its difficulties it was splendidly rendered and created a most musicianly atmosphere for the entire evening.

Van Bommel's Big Voice. And what a pleasure it was to hear Mr. Van Bommel sing! Possessed of a beautiful, big rich and mellow baritone voice, the singer had the special good fortune to have kept possession of the music and the soul of his voice, where so often this is "cultivated" away. In spite of the fact that one seldom sees an operatic number included in a symphonic program, Mr. Van Bommel's singing of the "Tender's Song" from "Carmen," by Bizet, with the orchestra was so delightfully rendered that it called forth such continued applause as to bring Mr. Van Bommel back for a most acceptable encore number.

The first symphonic number of the evening was the graceful, impelling Andante con moto from Schubert's C Major Symphony, No. 7. Even though the personnel of the orchestra has been changed not a little since its beginning, enough of the original members are still playing to maintain the love for Schubert which this orchestra has always been noted for. The tonality and ensemble in this number were exceptionally fine, and all of the nuances, the vivid contrasts in this composition, so insistent in its rhythmic beauty as to fairly bewitch one, were evidently fully appreciated by the musicians. The second subject, closing with the charming horn episode sounding from afar, was beautifully presented, and the work was given, altogether a rendition that did not at all smack of the amateur.

Miss Creepi Won Audience. Owing to a special request from the members of the Mendelssohn Club which club was holding its final rehearsal before their concert on Wednesday evening, that Miss Creepi play the Concerto for her last number. Executive Manager Leo F. Herbert announced that Miss Creepi would play first the group of solos, but would by request from a member of the audience, play as her opening number, "Souvenir of Moscow," a remarkable fine grouping of Russian melodies. Incidentally it is a composition to try the mettle of a virtuoso, demanding a rarely sympathetic interpretation and a mastery and broad technique. Miss Creepi's simple unaffected manner, as straightforward as her look into one's eyes as she conversed with one, her absolute simplicity of dress, leaving her art entirely free to appeal to her audience, were both refreshing and charming. Producing a beautifully round, rich tone, and again a tone almost more than one could bear in its high, silvery piercing but always musical quality, Miss Creepi brought to this number a rare conception of its pathos, almost its tragedy, and again its homely melodic beauty, so that she won the hearts of her audience from the very start. The second number of the group was entitled "Valse Bluetie," by Drigo, a sparkling fascinating number. In the "Gobelin Dance," by Basini, Miss Creepi proved herself to be a master of dainty, effective pizzicato work, and in spite of the fact that she still had the entire Concerto before her, the audience mercifully insisted upon an encore. And what a charming encore it was! Could the player have come from sunny Italy, and play "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning" as she did? Yes, she could and did, because she possessed a heart of sympathy and she knew that it would please a friend she had already made in the audience. It pleased every body, for while her bow sang the song from the depths of the violin, with a sweetness that was enough to stir the heart of any one, the technicalities of the "arrangement" were quite enough to astonish one. Miss Creepi was admirably accompanied at the piano by Peter J. Boogeman, who also played the piano accompaniment for Mr. Von Bommel.

A Difficult Number. One cannot but admire Mr. Muller's courage in attempting to play the second movement of the Tchaikowsky "Pathétique" Symphony, with musicians not skilled artists. This lovely number with just enough of the pathetic to be enjoyable, rather than painful, has been likened to the dawn of a summer day, in its opening but it would be a summer day such as only Tchaikowsky would picture. Its curious 5-4 rhythm gives to the number a rarely graceful and lifting effect, exceeding hard to attain or to maintain throughout the whole movement. And then there is the exceptionally vivid orchestral coloring such as this Russian composer dared to use. Yet so well did the orchestra play this number under Conductor Muller's baton, as to call forth the most favorable comment from those in the audience who had the more frequently heard noted orchestra play this work, all enjoyed it.

Mr. Van Bommel's second number was the prelude from Leoncavallo's opera, "Pagliacci," and it was splendidly sung by the baritone, whose voice never lost its sweetness when it became big, nor varied in its rich and even quality throughout its entire register which was considerable. The audience liked Mr. Van Bommel, whether or not they especially liked grand opera, and they insisted upon another encore, which the singer graciously gave them, leaving behind him, to both musician and music lover a memory of a beautiful human voice finding expression through an exceptionally well trained medium.

In Harmony With Orchestra. Next came the beautiful Mendelssohn Concerto for violin in E minor, Op. 64. So far no audience has been found which has tired of this musical work, so rich in genuine emotion and true feeling, beautifully expressed through the medium of tone. The soloist and the orchestra seemed to mutually inspire each other under Mr. Muller's conducting, and Miss Creepi brought to the frank out-spoken power and force of the allegro molto appassionato, the skill demanded by the composer, who is at his best in this concerto, and a fresh, rich interpretation combined with a graceful flowing style. Because of the richness of her tone production and the grace and sweep of her bowing, producing exceptional flexibility of movement, her playing of the cadenza in this movement was that of the mature artist. Again in the "Andante," her richness of tone, together with the beautiful orchestral coloring and splendid accompaniment of the orchestra, which seemed one with the artist, charmed the audience. The Concerto closes with the brilliant, light and tripping "Allegro Molto Vivace" demanding of the soloist who attempts it, the technique of the virtuoso and the sympathetic interpretation of the artist while the demands upon the orchestra are also not to be lightly considered. No wonder that Miss Creepi insisted upon Mr. Muller's sharing the honors with her for this movement of the Concerto, and it was, in fact, a splendidly concerted number, made so by the admirable manner in which it was both conducted and played.

The audience would not yet give up Miss Creepi, and for her final number she played lovingly, with exquisite beauty of tone, "The Last Rose of Summer."

The Closing Number. The evening's program closed with a sparkling, brilliant, dashing number—just the sort to send an audience home happy, the "Marche Hongroise," from Berlioz's "Damnation of Faust," played by the orchestra for the first time.

During an intermission between two numbers, Mr. Metzger, the president of the Symphony Society in behalf of the society and the orchestra thanked the audience for its support for the two concerts of the season, a support which had been highly appreciated. He reminded the audience that for Kingston to have such an orchestra, so admirably trained and conducted by Mr. Muller, was indeed a valued asset to the city in the double aspect of education and entertainment. "Many a city would be proud indeed to have such a symphonic orchestra," Mr. Metzger rightly stated, and he expressed the hope that the people of the community would continue their support of the organization, and that as generously as had the musicians and their conductor, who up to the present time had given all the time and effort necessary to produce such a program so well, without any other remuneration than the knowledge that they were doing their part toward the musical uplift of their community.

If the Symphony Society could count each year upon one hundred honorary sustaining members and one hundred patrons the financial problems of the organization would be solved, according to Mr. Metzger, and the heat of soloists could be secured to assist in making the programs a delight and inspiration in the entire community. Nor did Mr. Metzger fail to publicly express the hearty appreciation of the Symphony Society for the splendid services rendered by Leo F. Herbert, the executive manager of the organization, through whose untiring efforts this year's concerts had been so successfully managed, and of the equally efficient services of secretary Davis Hawk and treasurer Charles R. O'Connor. A note of thanks should also be given to Howard Hendricks for the preparing of the historic and descriptive program.

Children Enjoyed Rehearsal. In the afternoon as many of the school children as could reach the high school in time to hear enough of the program to make it worth their while to go that distance, seemed greatly to enjoy the public rehearsal. Instead of explaining all of the instruments, as at the former concert, Mrs. Reed, having been loaned a violin which had been taken apart for repair work by Bela Riccobono, cellist in the orchestra, showed the boys and girls somewhat of how a violin is made, considerably surprising them and those of their elders present when she told them that this little instrument is made up of from 55 to 70 pieces of wood. Even Miss Creepi who played the Andante movement from the concerto, with the orchestra for the children said that she had learned some things about her chosen and beloved instrument. Such an educational program for the boys and girls of a community, Miss Creepi considered of inestimable value in the musical progress of our people.

Today's Big Photoplay

Madge Kennedy is the daughter of a mining capitalist who is taking her on a western trip with him, accompanied by her mother and a ridiculous suitor. Unknown to anyone aboard but the father is a young mining engineer, Jimmy Dawson (Wallace MacDonald), retained by the father to investigate beforehand the property the capitalist is interested in. They have arranged a code and Jimmy will wire to Susan's father at a certain hotel.

The inevitable hot box occurs on the long trip across the American desert and Susan takes the opportunity to give her dog an airing. They are left behind and after long hours Susan finds herself at nightfall in a tumble down shack. Jimmy Dawson turns up there, too, and does rough work. In this guise Susan sees him for the first time and is sure that he is a hold-up man. Her suspicions are confirmed when the real desperado appears and Jimmy pretends he is one of them. Thanks to the code he is able to apprise Susan's father of his daughter's danger and eventually she is rescued. What happens afterward is the big surprise.

THE RECORD OF THE 78TH DIV'N

Thomas M. Edwards Back From France Where He Saw Hard Fighting With The "Lightning Division."

Cook Thomas M. Edwards of Co. F, 310th Infantry, 78th Division, has sent word to his friends in this city that he has arrived from overseas and is now located at Camp Dix awaiting his discharge which, he writes, will probably occur in the near future.

Cook Edwards left France on May 12th aboard the S. S. Panamanian with 2,100 troops, and spent eleven days on the water and had a very pleasant journey, encountering only one storm which was quite severe and lasted 20 hours. "Mickey" is certainly glad to be back again in "God's country" and very anxious to meet his friends in this city. A sketch of the 78th Division, of which many local boys were members, is as follows:

The 78th or Lightning Division is a National Army Division composed of men from New Jersey, New York and Delaware, with several of the southern and western states also well represented.

Landed in England May 31st to June 5th, 1918, in France June 1st to June 11th, 1918. Commander, Major General James H. McTear. Areas: Behind Hazebrouck, Nelles-lez-Blenquin, to July 19, 1918. Behind Arras, Roellecourt, July 19th to Aug. 24th, 1918. Bourhonnes-lez-Dains, American zone, Aug. 21st to Aug. 31st, 1918. Camp de Meuse (Morhan) P. A. Brigade, to Aug. 17th, 1918. Semur-en-Auxois (Cote-d'Or) American zone, Nov. 15th.

Sectors: Limeux and Turenelle, St. Mihiel front, Sept. 16th to Oct. 14th. Grandpre, St. Juvin Sector, Argonne front, Oct. 16th to Nov. 5th. Battles: St. Mihiel attack Sept. 12th to Sept. 16th, 1918. Limeux Sector, St. Mihiel front, Sept. 16th to Oct. 14th. Argonne-Meuse Battle, Oct. 16th to Nov. 9th, 1918.

Losses: Killed, 1,631. Wounded, 5,917. Missing, 360. Mentioned in General Orders 232: Meuse-Argonne Battle, in General Orders 238: St. Mihiel Attack. Special commendation from corps and army commander upon persistence and generalship in capturing the strong hold of Grandpre. Cook Edwards before going into the army was an efficient pressman connected with The Freeman job department.

Washing Oysters.

"Old songs, old books, old friends"—and old methods of agitating oysters. Specialists of the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture, have determined that oysters sink up a great deal more water and lose much more in nutrients when washed by the new air blast and mechanical device method than when washed by the old method on a skimmer with a hose and paddle.

The Folding Fan in Japan.

It is said that the folding fan originated with the people of Japan, which is likely enough to be true. For we can scarcely imagine a dainty little kimono-clad lady without her fan, can we?
